Support Our Aging Religious
November 5, 2021

Dear Friends,

Good evening and welcome to our 35th Anniversary SOAR! DC National Awards Gala!

Each year, this DC National event provides us with an opportunity to celebrate religious life and honor extraordinary individuals who serve as exemplary models of faith in our world. Tonight, we present Monsignor Kenneth Velo with the Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton Award, Dr. Christine Grady and Dr. Anthony Fauci with the Saint Katharine Drexel Award and Terry O’Hara Lavoie with the inaugural Father Bob Brown, OSFS Good Samaritan Award. We commend tonight’s honorees for their support of women and men religious and the mission of SOAR!

Our thanks go out to DC National Gala chair, Deborah Newhouse Dunham, for her leadership and to the 2021 DC National Gala Committee for their hard work on planning this virtual event.

Thank you to each one of you, our sponsors, and our donors, for attending and supporting this virtual event. Your participation not only tonight, but year after year, shows your commitment to ensuring that our aging religious live with the dignity they deserve. In light of this very challenging time, the needs of our aging Sisters, Brothers and Priests have never been greater.

We extend the gratitude of the board of directors for your generosity. We hope that you will enjoy our virtual gala and pray that we will all be able to return to our traditional, in-person dinner gala in 2022.

President
About SOAR!

As the median age of consecrated Catholic religious in the United States today continues to rise, Sisters, Brothers and Priests are facing a retirement crisis. Many religious received only modest stipends or no compensation, and there are no provisions for retirement. The cost of health care has also dramatically increased.

In the spring of 1986, a group of lay people — inspired by an article in The Wall Street Journal that exposed the severity of the issue — united to address the problem. Together they formed SOAR!, a national organization committed to helping elderly and infirm members of Catholic religious congregations in our nation.

Today, SOAR! supports the work of the institutional Church, distributing grants to congregations across the nation to address immediate practical needs and ensure the safety, comfort and dignity of our aging religious.

SOAR! brings together people of all religious denominations whose lives have been touched by the unparalleled contributions of Catholic Sisters, Brothers and Priests. The mission of SOAR! is not only to ensure their wellbeing, but to help their congregations to continue their ministry.

How SOAR! Helps

Despite the efforts of many generous Catholics and cost-saving measures implemented by religious orders, the need to support our retired religious persists.

For religious, the current annual average Social Security benefit is $6,834, as opposed to $18,170 for lay recipients. It is projected that 64% of religious women and men will be over 70 years old by 2030.

SOAR! typically provides assistance for projects such as renovations for accessibility; physical therapy and medical equipment; hospital beds; and fire alarm, sprinkler and nursing call systems. Thanks in part to SOAR!’s work, the men and women who have dedicated themselves to serving the Church are living out the last years of their lives in dignity and safety.

SOAR! practices good stewardship of its donations, and donors’ generous contributions are directed to the Sisters and Brothers most in need. SOAR! takes responsibility to ensure that donations are accounted for properly and that congregations use the funds as the donors intended.

How You Can Help

We need your help to provide for the needs of elderly religious who have taught, ministered to, and cared for us over the years. SOAR!’s ability to continue to assist women and men religious in need absolutely depends on the generous contributions of people like you. You help them age with dignity and grace. SOAR!

2021 | Terry O’Hara Lavoie
Monsignor Kenneth Velo, a priest of the Archdiocese of Chicago, serves as Senior Executive of Catholic Collaboration for DePaul University and the Big Shoulders Fund. Monsignor was ordained in 1973 and appointed to St. Angela Parish in Chicago. In 1980, he was appointed to the Archdiocesan Pastoral Center, with residence at Queen of All Saints Basilica. In the following years he served in various administrative positions, including vice chancellor of the Archdiocese, Master of Ceremonies and Executive Assistant to Joseph Cardinal Bernardin.

In November 1993, Monsignor Velo was named president of the Catholic Church Extension Society, a national organization which raises funds and awareness for Mission dioceses in the United States. In March 1996, Pope John Paul II named him Prelate of Honor with the title of Monsignor.

In 2001, he began his responsibilities at DePaul University. At DePaul Monsignor helps to extend the services of the University to the Catholic Community and other entities.

The Big Shoulders Fund, of which he serves as Co-Chairman, raises funds for inner-city Catholic Schools in Chicago. Over 20,000 students in seventy-six schools are helped by Big Shoulders.

Monsignor Velo is a former board member of SOAR! He currently serves as the Catholic Chaplain of the Shirley Ryan Ability Lab, (Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago). Until this past year he served on the Board of Lurie Children’s Hospital of Chicago and St. Mary’s College, Notre Dame, Indiana. He also participates in pastoral ministry at Old Saint Patrick’s Church in Chicago, Illinois.

Dr. Christine Grady
National Institutes of Health Clinical Center

Christine Grady, MSN, Ph.D. is a nurse-bioethicist, senior investigator, and Chief of the Department of Bioethics at the National Institutes of Health Clinical Center. Her research focuses on clinical research ethics, including informed consent, vulnerability, study design, and recruitment, international research ethics and on ethical issues faced by nurses and other healthcare providers. She is an elected fellow of the Hastings Center and the American Academy of Nursing, research fellow at Kennedy Institute of Ethics and an elected member of the National Academy of Medicine.

Dr. Grady holds a B.S. in nursing and biology from Georgetown University, a M.S.N. in community health nursing from Boston College, and a Ph.D. in philosophy from Georgetown University. She and her husband, Dr. Anthony Fauci, were married in 1985 and have three adult daughters.

National Institutes of Allergy and Infectious Diseases

Anthony S. Fauci, M.D. serves as Chief Medical Advisor to the President and director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) at the U.S. National Institutes of Health, where he oversees an extensive research portfolio focused on infectious and immune-mediated diseases. As the long-time chief of the NIAID Laboratory of Immunoregulation, Dr. Fauci has made many seminal contributions in basic and clinical research and is one of the world’s most-cited biomedical scientists. He was one of the principal architects of the President’s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR), a program that has saved millions of lives throughout the developing world.

Dr. Fauci attended Regis High School in Manhattan, The College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts, Cornell Medical College, and New York Hospital Cornell Medical Center (now Weill Cornell Medical Center). He and his wife, Dr. Christine Grady, have three adult daughters.

Terry O’Hara Lavoie
Culmore Clinic

Terry O’Hara Lavoie is co-founder of Culmore Clinic, a nonprofit interfaith medical clinic serving uninsured adults in the Bailey’s Crossroads community of Fairfax County. While co-founding the volunteer-driven Culmore Clinic in 2007, Terry served as Director of Survivors’ Fund, a $25 million dollar charity designed for the victims of the 9/11 attack on the Pentagon. She has held positions at various nonprofits including the Council on Foundations, The Union Institute, and Washington Grantmakers and established a consulting practice that provided program development and project management for foundations and nonprofits.

In addition to her work in the field of philanthropy, Ms. Lavoie has been an active volunteer in her community as well. She has served as a tutor in the Bailey’s Crossroads Community Shelter, a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA), and has held volunteer leadership roles with the Medical Care for Children Partnership (MCCP). Ms. Lavoie is proud to have been instrumental in MCCP’s efforts with State Children’s Health Insurance Program (SCHIP) legislation.

Terry holds a Bachelor of Arts from The Catholic University of America and a Master’s Degree in Public Administration from The George Washington University. She and her husband, Jack Lavoie, met as undergraduates at The Catholic University of America and are parishioners at St Anthony of Padua in Falls Church, Virginia. Their daughter Maggie’s high school years were steeped in Salesian Spirituality at Georgetown Visitation Preparatory School before heading to The University of Virginia for a BS and is now studying for a Master’s Degree. Their son, Frank, has been educated by the Jesuits, first at Georgetown Prep and now at The College of the Holy Cross in Worcester MA.

Thank you to the Sisters and Religious who taught us in Catholic Schools, who built our parishes, fed the poor and cared for the sick.

I am hoping that we can all say “YES” to helping SOAR! to continue reaching out to our aging and infirm Sisters, Brothers and Priests in their time of need.
“You will help others more by the peace and tranquility of your heart than by any eagerness or care you can bestow on them.”

SOAR! COVID-19 RAPID RESPONSE GRANTS

The COVID-19 pandemic and its continuing effects have impacted all of us. For older people, including aging religious women and men, it changed almost every aspect of daily life. Religious are called to live in community. During the height of the pandemic, Sisters could not gather together for daily Mass or prayers, some had to remain in their rooms for months.

“In the midst of the social isolation in convents, monasteries and abbeys, women and men religious continued to pray for all those impacted by the pandemic,” said SOAR! President Sister Kathleen Lunsmann, IHM. “SOAR! wants to help keep our aging religious safe and healthy. Meeting the immediate needs of aging religious is at the heart of our mission.”

With help from its donors and a generous grant from the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation, SOAR! initiated a COVID-19 Rapid Response Program. There were 44 congregations who received grants between June and July of 2020 to help them address the needs arising from the pandemic. Funds were granted for items such as PPE and sanitizing supplies. SOAR! even funded the purchase of technology — wifi improvements and personal tablets which helped religious stay connected to each other, to their families, and to virtually attend Mass.

Your care and concern for aging religious allows SOAR! to respond needs impacting their health and safety even during a pandemic. Thank you.

To help SOAR! continue to be ready to assist religious in times of crisis, please consider donating today.
